

Our company, Lake Cities Broadcasting Corporation, operates five stations in four small towns, the largest of which is pop. 10,000 and the smallest, pop. 3,300.

We are already overburdened with regulations, and the proposed requirement that we record the bulk of our daily programming for possible review for nebulous purposes is outrageous. In decades of broadcasting, very few instances of debased radio broadcast content have ever been brought before the commission. Requiring 12,000 radio stations to bear the expense and trouble of making and storing all of these recordings is an unreasonable burden. Little stations such as ours will be especially damaged by this prposal.
